Dedication

This year the twenty-eighth volume of the Bethel High School yearbook is dedicated to the two most important ladies in the history of Bethel High School. Both Mrs. Turnkey and Mrs. Butts have been considered the "bookstore ladies" for the twenty-eight years that Bethel has been build. We may overlook these two fine young women sometimes, but we must consider the time and effort they put into making the bookstore convenient for us. Without either of the two, from whom we would buy our last minute pen or folder, to our last minute breath mints, we give our gratitude. We thank the two of you once again for your continuous service to our continuous needs.

I have money to owe...So it's off to work I go.

FRIES ANYONE? One of Michelle Rose's jobs at McDonald's is to prepare the french friens for customers. She looks exhausted.

Chris Donavant spares us a smile even though he looks terribly busy working such long hours after school at HQ.

1-800-COLLECT? Craig Moore doesn't accept many of those calls at Farm Fresh, but he does get a lot of calls while working the front desk.

McDonalds, HOW MAY I HELP YOU? How many times a day do Michelle Rose, Kylisha Boyd and Latifa Schott say that. They take a break for a quick snapshot.

Jennifer Todd demonstrates the correct way to be an All-American sports player at freshmen orientation. Below upperclassmen explain to incoming freshmen about block scheduling and student life at BHS.

Freshmen Orientation . . .

Scared and Bewildered Freshmen enter the halls of BHS and

Take time to get oriented

Students get pumped up and ready for Spirit week

Hippie days are here again according to Tiffany Bright as she struts her stuff.

Displaying his green hair, this Bethel student grabs his books between bells on his way to class.

John Fauls and Ms. Banwell take a moment to chat about his unusual attire.

Mrs. Spady wears her poodle skirt from the '50s. Many other teachers participated in Spirit Week and wore clothes from other decades.

FLASHBACK! Bethel students show their spirit and dress up with clothes from the '70s and '60s. Spirit week is always a time for students and faculty to display their Bruin pride.

SENIOR SUPERLATIVES

Best Friends

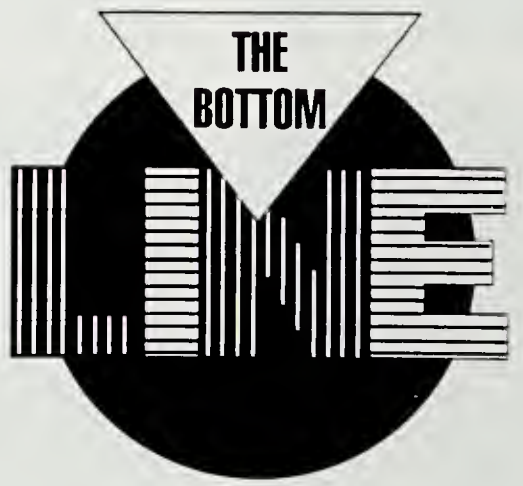
High school years are said to be one of the most enjoyable times in ones life. These best friends shared a lot of fun times throughout the years and the times they spent together will never be forgotten.

Most Likely to Succeed

Once we leave high school who knows what will happen? Will we choose to have a family or venture into our careers? The Senior Class chose Angie Waters and Brian Cade as the most likely to succeed. They both have shown academic strength throughout their four years at Bethel and deserve to be commended.

Best Dressed

The two best dressed students at Bethel High are: Jada Wells and Erik Grubbs. Everyday they enter the school looking clean, neat, and stylish.



SENIOR

Best All Around

The two students that were chosen as best all around were Brian Hubble and Dinetta Hill. These two seniors exemplified good grades and they were a great role model for the underclassmen.

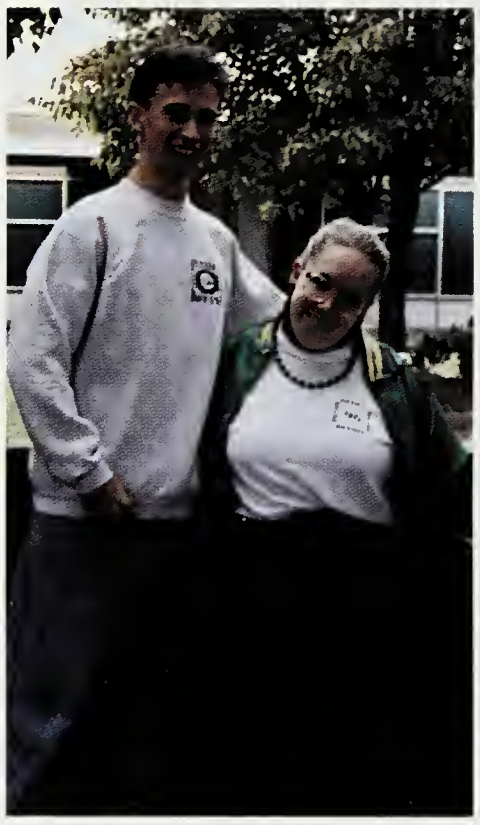
Most Friendliest

It is always great to see a smile while walking down the hall or hear a friendly voice asking how you are doing when the day is going bad or it just has not been too exciting. You could always look for a friendly hello from Krin Wilkie and Larry Enscore.

Most Athletic

Chosen as most athletic was Tiffany Barret and Paul Hall. Their success shows the strength that our athletics hold. Whether it was at practice or at the actual game, they always contributed their best to the team.

SUPERLATIVES



Most School Spirited

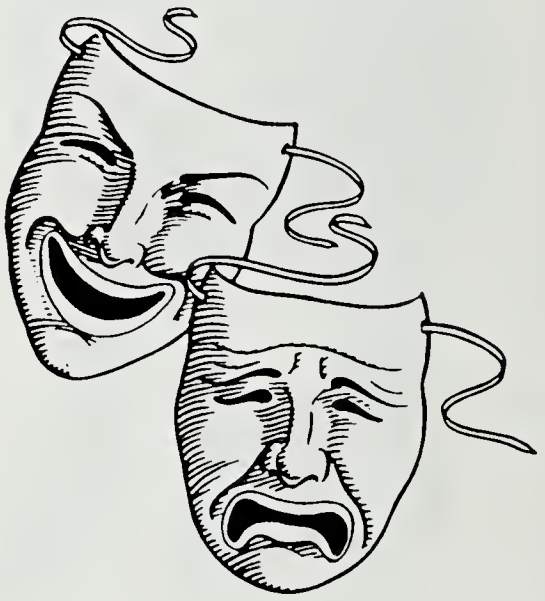
School spirit was vital to the strength of the school. All the classes needed it, particularly the seniors. Throughout the years, Amy Dunn and Larry Enscore displayed superb spirit. In pep rallies, extra curricular involvement, and constantly being behind the school in every way. We appreciate them and will always remember them for their Bruin pride.

Best Looking

What is it about a person that makes them attractive to others? Is it their eyes, hair, personality, or attitude? This year the two most attractive seniors were Athena Evans and Shaun Stith. Not only were they attractive, but they had beautiful personalities.

Best Dancers

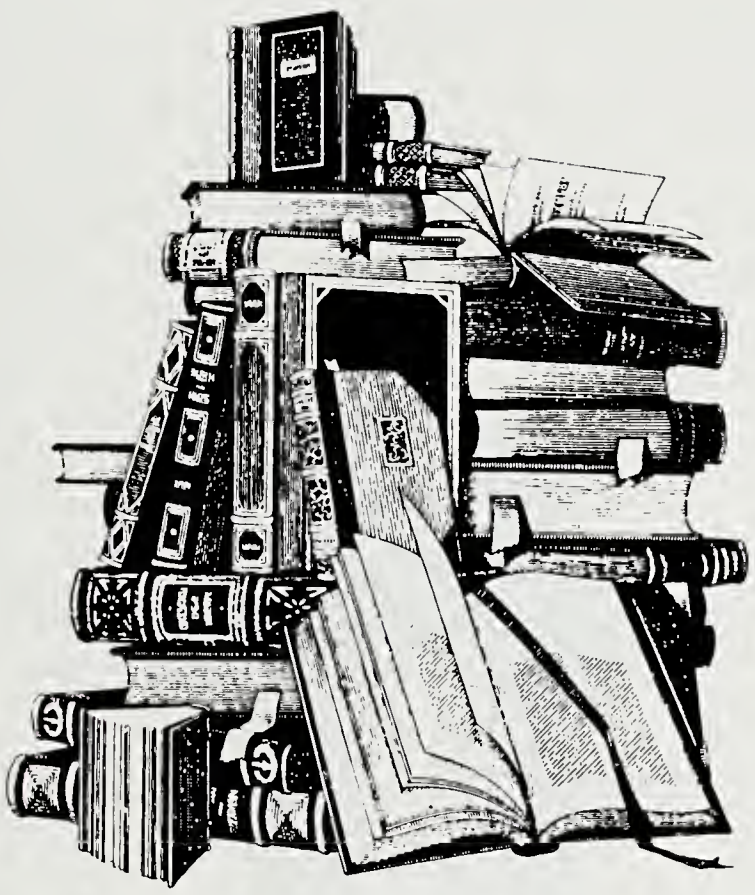
This years best dancers were Jennifer Todd and Tavares Askew. They were at every party, game, dance, and EVERYTHING!!! They showed their unique talents off every year.



SENIOR

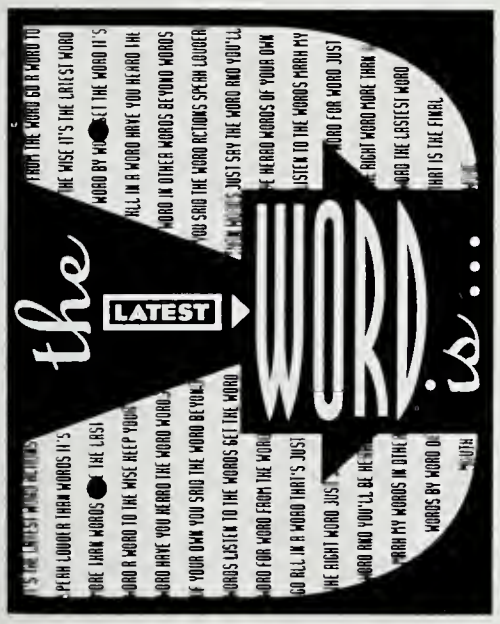
Biggest Flirt

Out of all the four years at Bethel, Tammika Jones and Clifton Johnson flirted with everyone! From their earliest days as "Freshmen" to their final year as "Seniors"! They have truly been the biggest flirts ever.



Most Talkative

Ann Sutherland and Yusuf Jamaludeen knew all the gossip!! They always knew what was going on about everyone when it came down to the REAL DEAL!!!!



Most Studious

Leasa Woods, Chu Yon Pak, and William Morgan were the most studious out of our Senior class. They were always busy studying in the hallways, library, and even lunch to accomplish their goals.

SUPERLATIVES

Most Outgoing

From showing their spirit in class, school activities, and doing their work, Sabrina Settles and Tim Whitlock were definitely outgoing. They were always getting into something new!!

Most Popular

Shaun Stith and Tammika Jones were known by everyone!!! They were always doing something to be sure that EVERYONE saw them!!! They were very popular.

KEEPING TRACK
The girl managers of this year's football team had their hands full. But they took a moment to smile pretty for the camera.

PILING ON
Brandon Chenault (32) came to the rescue of his teammates, but Nicholas Morant (66) and Jessy Jackson (69) had it all under control.

TAKING 'EM ON
Brandon Chenault (32), R.J. Williams (7), and Chris Morant (44) met Menchville's defense team head on — without flinching.

GET IT!!!!
Craig Grainger (89) tried to recover a fumbled ball as Nicholas Morant (66) looks on.

FOR THE RECORD

THE REACTION
Obviously, Coach Kozlowski was not happy with the ref's call. Was he trying to hold a conference with him?

GOING, GOING, GONE!!!!
Brian Holloway (11) really knew how to get us going with his t-offs and field goals.

BRAINS BEHIND THE MUSCLE
Our guys had a great season due to these seven fine men.

WHAT?
Looks like there was a mixed message being sent to Senior Amy Kidd.

GO TEAM!
Junior, Amanda Parks had all of us jumping up in our seats and shouting for more excitement.

YEAH TEAM!!!
By far, our varsity cheerleaders, Juniors Vikki Ashe and Kela Puu and Senior Amy Kidd out-shined all of the other high school cheerleaders in the area.

FUN TIME
During one of the pep assemblies, the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders joined up to have a little fun.

SPIRITED!!!!!!!
This was just one example of how our cheerleaders wowwed us at the many Friday night football games.

Q What inspired you to go into the teaching profession?

A

"Several things. For one, I liked school, especially extra-curricular activities. Also, my Latin teacher was very unique and we did crazy stuff. And last, the summers don't hurt." Mr. Murphy

"There have been many influential educators in my life that encouraged me to follow in their footsteps." Mr. Parker

"My third grade teacher, Mr. Larsen. He always made learning fun by letting us use our creative juices." Ms. St. John

"My mother — she taught for 37 years and I've always admired her." Mrs. Bomba

"My 4th and 7th grade teachers, old sisters, Ms. Nell and Ms. Elizabeth Johnson. They were always there for the kids. They used tremendous techniques to get information and access to kids. I use all of the things they did with my own students." Mrs. Ridgway

Q

What do you think has changed from when you were kids compared to now as you see kids?

"Not a lot really. I think the family structures in society have continued to erode and that has an effect on kids and their attitude and effort. One difference from myself, I often see is students willing to commit to activities. There are a number of highly involved students at BHS, but the number is fairly small. It's probably because my school was so small, but everyone at my school did several activities." Mr. Murphy

"Some of the things were introduced to the kids now than there was before. We were more carefree and there wasn't that much violence between kids as there are now. There is a great deal of peer pressure between kids now than there was back then." Mr. Parker

"A lot of things have changed. Family structure is a big thing. So many kids are living with one parent or grandparents or other family members and, sometimes, even other families. There's no stability for them. There are also no consequences for when they do something wrong and no praise for when they do something right." Ms. St. John

"The 'toys' have changed and become more expensive. But basically, our hearts are still the same — still struggling to be loved and accepted as ourselves." Mrs. Bomba

"Miss Piggy"

Marti,

We wish that we could describe to you exactly how it feels having a grown daughter like you. Sometimes, when we look at the independent woman you've become, it's really hard to believe that you were the little girl who used to jump rope and play with dolls. But then, you'll throw your arms around us, or call us up for advice, and we realize that the bond between us will always be the same.

We love you, and we want to tell the whole world, "That's our daughter. She's made us proud."

We love you,

"Ursa Major: The Legend Continues" is the theme for the 1995-96 edition of URSA MAJOR. This theme appeared in the first pages of this book, dividers, and headlines. URSA MAJOR was published by Jostens Print and Publishing, and the representative was Joe Boocks.

The press run had a trim size of 9x12 with 3 flats of color. The cover used a leather tone Hunter Green material, with a Mission grain. And a White Silkscreen application, along with a Gold Foil Stamping.

All of the body copy, captions, folio tabs, and headlines were typed in Palatino.

Club, sports, faculty, team, and underclassmen pictures were taken by Lifetouch photographers, with special help from photographer Darryl Nelson. Some special events and all of the Senior portraits were also taken by Lifetouch photographers. Sam's Club and One Hour Moto Photo developed most of our pictures that were taken by the yearbook staff themselves.
